

DISARMAMENT VICTORY IN SENATE

WORKING HARD ON DECORATION DAY'S PROGRAM

ELYRIA—A roster of the soldiers and sailors buried in Ridgeway cemetery was published in last Sunday's Chronicle-Telegram, and if any one knows of any such who are buried here whose name did not appear on that roster, if they will make this known to Mason Smith he will appreciate it very much and will be glad to correct the list.

Those in charge of the Memorial Day exercises are working hard to get the program ready so that everything will move off smoothly. The meeting of the General committee will be held Friday evening at which time the entire program will be made up. The complete program will be published in Saturday's paper instead of Friday's paper as previously announced.

Any civic organization intending to participate in the parade should get in touch with C. C. Chase or Mason Smith before Friday night, in order that the line of march and placing of the different orders may be completed at this meeting.

The school children are expected to be present to hear the speech on Memorial Day and at the close of the speech will gather on the lawn in front of the Congregational church on Court street and be ready to take their place in the parade which will be assigned to them.

The Finance committee report a generous response by the loyal citizens, but are still in need of more funds in order that all bills may be paid promptly. Any citizen who has not yet contributed to this fund and wishes to do so should get in touch with any one of the members of the finance committee, or mail check to J. H. Thompson, secretary of the committee.

The Flower committee reports that donations of flowers have been coming in very slowly, and it is hoped that any one having flowers to donate, will call up Mr. Hewitt at 5164 as soon as possible, so that he can arrange for getting the flowers in on time.

Those who can do so will please bring their flowers to the G. A. R. hall at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Many autos will be required and it is hoped that those having autos will be on hand, as the committee requests all autos to be ready to start at 2:15 o'clock p. m. Let promptness be the watchword, and no one will have to tire themselves waiting.

JAMES HEWITT IS CANDIDATE

ELYRIA—James Hewitt, president of council, today is circulating his petition as a candidate for the nomination of mayor on the Republican ticket. He will oppose Mayor A. R. Jones.

C. W. Tattersall, present councilman-at-large, has filed his petition seeking the nomination of the office now held by Hewitt.

Mr. Hewitt is prominently identified with the Masonic orders of this city.

EVERYTHING SET AND EVERY ONE GOING TO THE CIRCUS

ELYRIA—"Elephants 'n' hosses, 'n' animals and 'n' men and men 'n' ridin' and oh gee ma you must take me to the circus."

This was the exclamation which a youngster gave voice to as he saw the parade pass this morning and there are many adults who while not so loud about it felt just about the same way.

And as a result young and old America and about every one in the city will spend their way to the fair grounds this afternoon to witness some circus.

Judging from the parade, the fine well kept animals, the splendid horses, the dens of wild beasts, the clowns, bands, and all the other features which go to make up a first-class tented show, the Hagenback-Wallace troupe will play to a record crowd both afternoon and evening.

There were animals too numerous to mention: Bands and clowns were plentiful. The bands were liberal with music and the clowns had a brand of humor that was clean and wholesome.

Costumes of the riders appeared to be new. In fact, the entire pageant was one of color and great brilliancy.

A wide west section was on a scale larger than is usually found in the city. It consisted of cowgirls and cowboys, dressed in true western costume.

Wireless Fits In Saving Life Of Coast Guard

NORFOLK, Va., May 26.—Wireless telegraph and the airplane saved the life of W. B. Midgett, an engineman on a coast guard lifeboat at Manteo, N. C., after he had been overcome by gasoline fumes. There was no physician at Manteo so a wireless message was sent out asking for a navy surgeon. Lieutenant C. L. Haynes of the Hampton Roads naval base volunteered and made the trip to Manteo by airplane in two hours, reporting there just in time. Midgett was reported on the road to recovery today.

SLAIN BANDIT IS WELL KNOWN TO ELYRIA MEN

ELYRIA—Former service men from Elyria and Lorain county in Headquarters company, 329th Infantry and others in the 33rd Division many of whom reside in Elyria and Lorain, are notified to learn that a former companion is the bandit who was killed in an attempted bank robbery at Lima, O.

Several Lorain and Elyria men became quite intimate with Raleigh Townsend, the slain bandit, who came to Camp Sherman with a Hudson speedster auto and who accompanied officers while the 329th Infantry was stationed at Camp Sherman.

Townsend was drafted from Toledo. His army record disclosed him to be familiar with underworld and that while it was common knowledge that he was a professional gambler and "cleaned-up" considerable money from fellow soldiers in crap shooting games, he was never suspected of being of the bank bandit type.

He was drafted from Toledo. His home is at Douthat, Oklahoma.

RIDGEVILLE FARMHAND IS REPORTED MISSING

ELYRIA—John Peck, Stop 50, near Ridgeville, asked police to be on the look out for his farm hand, Jim Scott, who disappeared from the Peck farm shortly after 5:56 and a revolver turned up missing.

TAT DENIES OFFER OF PLACE ON BENCH

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 26.—"The report has no foundation," said former President William H. Taft today when informed of a report from Washington that he had been offered and had accepted the appointment as chief justice of the supreme court of the United States.

All-Night Gang of Boys Carry Guns

LORAIN—C. M. Metcalf, 747 Broadway, notified the police that a gang of boys were in the habit of congregating near the sub-station on East Twenty-fifth street and very often spending the night there.

While returning from work yesterday morning he said some of the boys had guns and were shooting. The police are investigating.

LACK OF HOUSE QUORUM LIKELY TO HALT BILLS

COLUMBUS, May 26.—Prediction was made in legislative circles today that absence of a quorum will prevent the house from acting upon additional legislation when the senate reconvenes here tomorrow, following its "five minute recess" which began on April 29.

It is understood that the representation in the house will be limited to Speaker Beetham, house floor leader Crabbe and members of the house enrollment committee.

The deadlock, apparently, continues, the house leaders insisting upon sine die adjournment and the senate leaders holding out for a recess.

STATE SOLONS IN CONFERENCE UPON TAXATION

COLUMBUS, May 26.—Although definite action was postponed until it is determined whether the state legislature will adopt a taxation resolution preliminary plans have been made for initiating a proposed taxation amendment to the state constitution, to be voted on at the November election.

These preliminary plans were made at a conference here of representatives of Ohio real estate boards, building and loan associations, the Ohio mortgage association, Ohio state grange, Ohio farm bureau federation, Ohio investment association, Ohio bankers' association, Ohio manufacturers' association, Ohio board of builders' exchanges and the Ohio building owners' association.

The conference was presided over by H. H. Hampton, Cleveland. At the meeting to be held after the legislature adjourns, in the event that the legislature does not adopt a taxation resolution, members of chambers of commerce throughout the state, also, will be present.

The conferees also may decide upon initiating a debt limitation amendment to the state constitution, if senate fails to adopt the resolution, which went through the house, providing for such an amendment.

SANDUSKY PASTOR ADDRESSES KIWANIS

ELYRIA—The Kiwanis club was addressed by Rev. N. R. H. Moore, pastor of Grace church, Sandusky, at noon today, on "What Underlies Credit." Rev. Moore handled his subject very ably, taking the letters of the word "Credit" to illustrate his talk. C stood for "Conscience"; R for "Righteousness"; D for "Dutifulness"; I for "Intelligence"; T for "Truth"; S for "Sincerity" and L for "Liberality" and was one of the best yet heard by the club.

The men received their wounds in a gun battle between officers and citizens at Nolan, W. Va., last night.

All the seven men under arrest are said to be striking miners. NO ONE—W H L

Triple Conference For Naval Holiday Passes Unanimously

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, May 26.—While the advocates of disarmament seemingly won an overwhelming victory in the unanimous adoption of the senate of the Borah amendment to the naval bill, it became apparent today that their victory will be a hollow one for the present at least.

The Borah rider "authorities and requests" the president to call a conference of British, Japanese and American representatives to work out plans for a "naval holiday" under which each country would reduce if not altogether abandon naval building for the next five years.

President Harding, it was learned authoritatively today, has no intention of taking any immediate action in this respect. Although committed to the people of disarmament, the president is said to feel that the present is not a proper time for the initiation of such steps and the matter probably will be pigeonholed until some semblance of peace and order prevails in the unsettled world.

Just now all of continental Europe is bickering and quarreling, there are evidences of restiveness in the far east, and the United States has "issues" in a pending dispute with the world.

The Borah amendment, which has yet to pass the house, although little opposition to it is anticipated in view of the unanimity with which the senate adopted it.

President Harding has on more than one occasion informed congressional leaders that he "did not want his hand forced" in international matters, particularly in the case of disarmament. This opposition to congressional action, however, was suddenly withdrawn in the face of Senator Borah's insistence upon his amendment. Administration leaders decided the easier course would be to adopt the amendment, prevent a long bitter fight and then proceed to hold it in abeyance until the occasion is deemed more propitious for action.

BRITISH BATTALIONS GO TO UPPER SILESIA

BERLIN, May 26.—The dispatch of four British battalions, 2,400 soldiers, from the Rhineland to Upper Silesia will begin tomorrow, said a dispatch from Cologne today.

Beginning tomorrow two troop trains will leave the Cologne area daily, carrying British troops to Oppeln. The transport of troops will continue until June 1.

According to the Morgen Post, the French troops in Upper Silesia have evacuated Myslowitz and the Polish insurgents have occupied the city.

PLAN REORGANIZATION SAFETY NUT & BOLT CO.

ELYRIA—A number of Elyria, Lorain, Grafton, Oberlin and Ashland people are interested in The Safety Nut & Bolt Co. The management of this company, after a stormy career, proved so unsatisfactory to the Elyria stockholders, that an application for a receivership was followed by revelations which the investigation showed convinced the stockholders of the company. This company is being reorganized, and a meeting of interest to all members of this district will be held in Chamber of Commerce hall, Saturday May 28, at 7:30 p. m. at which time plans for the future of the company will be made.

AMERICAN PEOPLE FACE HIGHER TAXES—SMOOT

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The American people face a strong possibility of higher instead of lower taxes, Senator Reed Smoot, republican of Utah, indicated today when the senate finance committee, of which he is a member, resumed its investigation of the country's tax situation.

Smoot did not designate what kind of increased taxation he intimated he expected the American people would have to shoulder in a not distant future.

He expressed regret at the financial prospect facing the country. Smoot suggested that the adoption of soldier bonus legislation would render more certain the possibility of a nation-wide boom in taxation.

RELATIVES OF DROWNING ACCIDENT ARE LOCATED

ELYRIA—The relatives of Ben Terence, known in this city as Ben Franklin, the colored man who was drowned in the river last Monday have been located at Danville, Ky. The body was being held at the Jenkins' undertaking parlors, and was shipped today to Danville.

WOMAN OUSTED FROM M'GANNON PERJURY JURY

By BL DOROTHY HUSKE, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent. CLEVELAND, May 26.—The alleged perjury case of former Judge William H. McGannon halted yesterday afternoon when a woman, who had been tentatively seated in the jury box, was called from her chair and questioned by Judge Florence E. Allen, fined $50 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail, for contempt of court.

The woman declared on examination that she had not talked with anyone concerning the McGannon case, but when questioned later, admitted having told Miss Kitty Chambers, woman bailiff, "that an organization to which she belonged would pay $500 in case she was a member of a jury which would find McGannon 'guilty.'"

WOMAN SHOPLIFTER IS BOUND TO GRAND JURY UNDER $1,000 BOND

ELYRIA—Mrs. Stella Decker, twenty year old demure Lorain girl and former resident of this city, was held to the grand jury in May or Jones' court Wednesday afternoon on the charge of shoplifting, $338 worth of goods from the John Lersch Dry Goods store last fall, while she was employed as a clerk.

She was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond, the same for which she is confined in the county jail for a similar offense from Lorain.

In court she admitted the thefts and the only reason she said she could account for her acts is that she believed her condition incident to becoming a mother converted her into a kleptomaniac.

AMERICAN AMMUNITION SEEPING INTO IRELAND SAYS CHIEF SECRETARY

LONDON, May 26.—"I do not see what further steps it is possible to take towards establishing a peace in Ireland," said Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons this afternoon. "A public offer has been made in the house of commons, but there has been no response to it."

American ammunition is being sent into Ireland, according to a declaration made in commons by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland. Sir Hamar announced that since March 26, crown forces have captured 16,000 rounds of American ammunition at Dublin.

Lieutenant Colonel Archer-Shee, a coalition unionist, asked whether strong representations would be made to the United States.

Sir Hamar Greenwood said that this inquiry should be addressed to the foreign secretary.

PLAINTIFF ACCEPTED $200 TO SETTLE SUIT

ELYRIA—The case of Dr. Russell H. McClure against the Cleveland & Southwestern Ry., asking for $10,000 damages caused by the accidental death of his little daughter, Beatrice, was settled in court today.

TWO SUITS FILED TO COLLECT ACCOUNTS

ELYRIA—Two cases were filed in court today to collect on alleged accounts.

The Chute & Butler Co. ask the court for judgment against Bertha E. Witt, et al of Lorain for $1,418.66.

The Thomson-Crooks Co. also ask judgment for $512 against Robert Vestal of this city.

NAME OMITTED FROM MASONIC REVUE PROGRAM

ELYRIA—Through an error the name of Miss Doris Austin was omitted from the list of performers at the Masonic Revue. Miss Austin appeared in a song and dance that was one of the bright spots of the evening. She possesses a sweet soprano voice, and her toe dancing was extremely graceful. She was obliged to respond to an encore for a delighted audience.

Twin Divorces to Unravel Much Marriage Tangle

ANDERSON, Ind., May 26.—William Muncey and Gordon Huffman, warm friends and fellow laborers in the same factory are about to trade wives. And it's all right with Mrs. Muncey and Mrs. Huffman.

The discovery that Huffman loved Mrs. Muncey and Muncey loved Mrs. Huffman and vice versa on both sides led to a visit to Judge Kittinger. The problem was how the "swap" could be arranged. Judge Kittinger suggested twin divorce bills.

Two divorce bills, charging a abandonment have been filed. A double wedding is expected later.

COUNCILMAN IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL'S HEAD

ELYRIA—C. W. Tattersall, chairman and councilman-at-large, filed his petition as a candidate for the republican nomination for president of the council.

There are two other petitions filed with the Lorain county board of elections. Mayor Asaph R. Jones for renomination and Ralph Standen for renomination as city treasurer.

Petitions must be filed by June 10.

PLICE GIVES BAIL FOR HIS APPEARANCE LATER ON BRIBERY COMPLAINT

ELYRIA—Policeman E. E. Plice of Lorain, appeared in criminal court yesterday and entered a plea of not guilty of bribery, on an indictment brought against him by the special grand jury. He was released under $1000 bond, which was the same given by the four other patrolmen, arraigned early in the week.

Plice has been absent on a vacation, and entered his appearance as soon as he returned to Lorain. It is understood that on other indictment concerning the Lorain scandal has not yet been served, and the officers are now searching for the indicted man.

ESSEX PERSONS MAY FACE MILDER CHARGE

ELYRIA—Essex Persons, awaiting trial on charge of check forgery, will probably be permitted to plead guilty to a lesser charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, which charge Persons says he is willing to plead guilty to.

The charge was changed because Mrs. Ned Stedman, on whose other hand a small check was forged, dislikes to further appear in court in the matter. She informed officials that it was her first time in court when she appeared against Persons.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE STARTS IN GOOD EARNEST TONIGHT

Let Every One Respond Cheerfully to Slogan of Chamber of Commerce for 1000 Members and "Biggest, Busiest and Best" Little City on Earth

ELYRIA—If any one has any doubt as to the energetic qualities of the members of the Elyria Chamber of Commerce they have only to step into some of the conferences being held daily with the object of increasing the membership to convinced of the absurdity of that state of mind.

It is not mere energy it is simply dynamic force rolled into human beings all intent upon really two goals, which when analyzed are reduced to the one great and overmastering desire, namely, the advancement of the place in the sun that it has always held and an ambition to put it a little over that line.

In figuring at the North pole an imaginary sun and shadow or horizon have to be developed. It is no imaginary attitude which the Chamber of Commerce desires. It is no make believe horizon that is sought.

The altitude must be the highest peak of success. The sun the golden ball of attainment and the horizon, none at all. There is to be no horizon. The aim is the highest, biggest, and best. The slogan is to be Elyria, "Biggest, Busiest and Best of its size today" with the epilogue "Watch us grow."

And with the interest and growth in the Chamber of Commerce, the pride, industry, business ambitions and commercialism of the city will grow.

The Chamber of Commerce is not selfish in its aim to encourage members. Its real object is to centralize the keenest and best of the city's minds into one organization for the benefit of the entire city and the benefit of its citizens.

And in no organization have objects been secured more promptly than through a Chamber of Commerce.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES FOR YANKS SUNDAY

G. A. R. and Legion Attend Two Different Churches — Division Is Unexplained

ELYRIA—Veterans of three divisions and their auxiliaries are in a hurry to understand the action taken which has led to two separate Memorial Sunday services being held here Sunday.

The Elyria Legion has informed its members to meet at the hall 10:30 to march to the First Congregational church to hear an address by Dr. S. E. Brewster.

The Grand Army of the Republic members will meet at the G. A. R. hall at 10:15 o'clock and at 10:40 o'clock will march to the First Methodist church to hear the Memorial Sunday address by Rev. W. B. Waters, D. D., and the G. A. R. as is customary, has extended an invitation to the Women's Relief Corps, Veterans, and Auxiliary, Spanish War Veterans and the Legion to join them in the observance.

In past years all military organizations have united in the Memorial Sunday and Memorial day exercises and those who have served under the stars and stripes are at a loss to know why the customary program should have been altered this year.

CRIPPLES ARE HAPPY

ELYRIA—Practically the entire populace in addition to delegation from all sections of Lorain county and from adjoining counties invaded Elyria today for the Hacker back-Wallace circus.

The parade was especially routed so that the parade passed in the vicinity of Memorial hospital and the city hospital for the crippled children. The schools of the city were dismissed this morning.

SCHOOL TEACHERS SEE 'BLACK BEAUTY' SHOW

ELYRIA—Over 100 public and parochial school teachers were the guests of Manager O. J. Bannon in the production of "Black Beauty" at the Colonial Theater late yesterday afternoon.

The educators were unanimous in declaring the picturization of the world's most famous horse story to be an ideal production for all members of the family.

The film especially caters to children and Mr. Owen has decided to hold special matinees from 2:30 to 6:00 Thursday and Friday and from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock Saturday in which children will be admitted at a reduced admission.

AMERICAN

"The Soul of Youth," which came to the American Theater last night, is a drama of the most refreshing type and leaves the spectator in a happy frame of mind after witnessing the thrilling dramatic plot and the wholesome comedy with which the entire film is permeated.

The story is centered around a boy who grows up in a foundling home, and shows his unhappy life in that institution, where he gains his reputation of being the worst boy in the place, and his subsequent experiences after he departs from the loveless home to make his way in the city streets. The story contains a strong counter-plot of political intrigue, and the boy, after being adopted by Mr. Hamilton, the young, clean-government candidate, puts over the big climax that saves the day for the law and order faction and makes him the hero of the hour.

COLONIAL

Many persons have read of Ellis Island, regarded as the gateway to the land of freedom by Europeans, but comparatively few have ever seen this great institution. In a new Mary Pickford film play, "Through the Back Door," coming to the Colonial theater next Sunday an excellent view of the island is shown. The scene depicts immigrants actually entering this country. The pictures were made in New York Harbor recently by M. Schneider, an expert cameraman, under the supervision of Mark Larkin, director of publicity for Mary Pickford, at a time when the congestion of immigrants was greatest at Ellis Island. It is said that a near riot was occasioned when it became known to the foreigners that pictures were being taken for a Pickford play. They believed little Mary was there in person.

All actresses who work simultaneously on stage and screen have certain definite health rules they have adopted from experience. Dorothy Dalton, the Paramount star, who is recognized as one of the most physically perfect actresses today has to say about keeping fit under such a strain:

"I have always taken the utmost care of myself, and have taken part in as many outdoor sports, such as swimming, riding and fishing, as possible, so, I suppose, I naturally had an unusually strong constitution."

tion to begin with. However, when I accepted the heavy role of Chrysis, in "Aphrodite," which I knew would entail eight performances a week, I realized it would mean giving up social activities and buckle down to nothing but work and rest.

Practically the only exercise I could ever get was walking, and I assert that even ten minutes of honest-to-goodness hiking will do more for one than several hours of languid rambling. Some walking enthusiasts claim that if properly done, man needs no other form of exercise. Perhaps they are right, but I am too fond of other athletics to agree."

Another Convincing Endorsement Given Famous Nerv-Worth

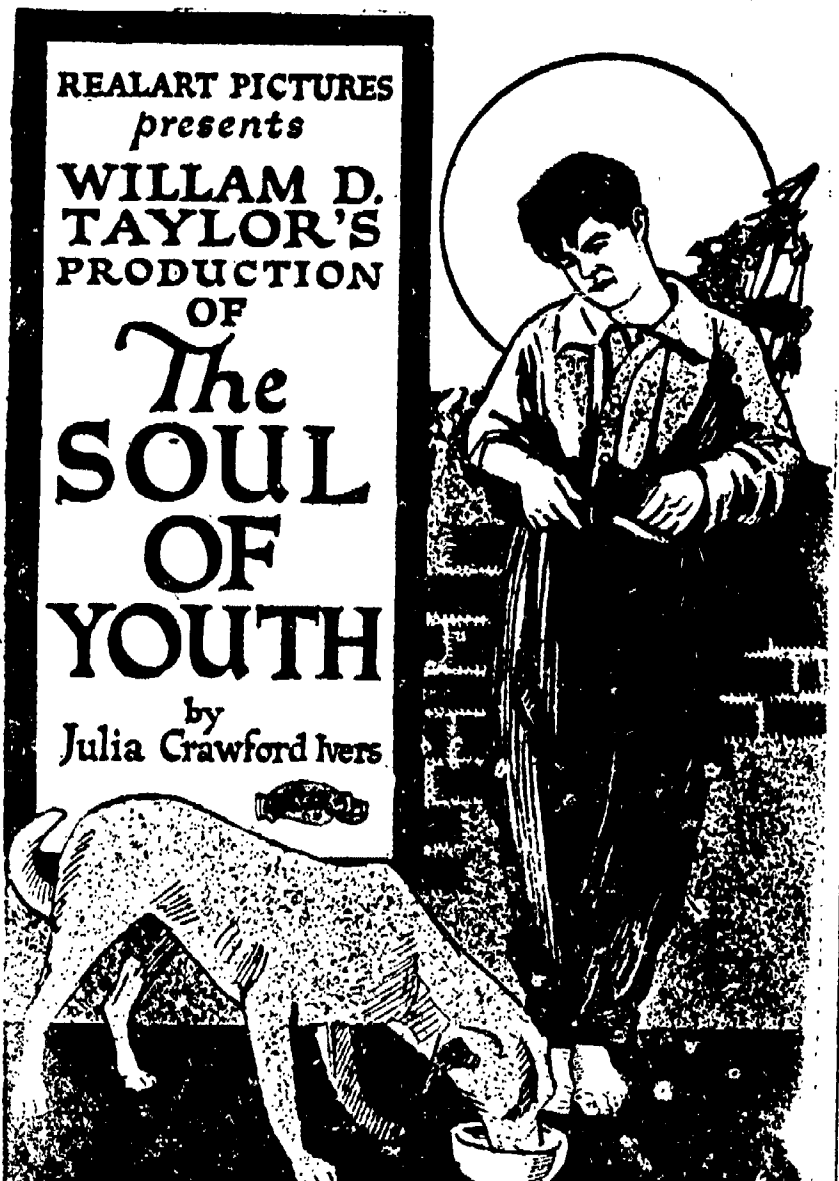

Fostoria, O., Man Quickly Overcame Weakness, Nerves, Sleeplessness.

"I had a sick spell, and it left me in such a nervous condition that I could not sleep," wrote M. L. Betzer, 230 W. North St., Fostoria, Ohio. "I was weak in the legs and couldn't go to work without being tired out at night. I decided to try Nerv-Worth and after my second bottle I am happy and after my third bottle I am getting more strength."

The Accuser Becomes Sympathizer!

Hamilton, the reformer, comes into court to prosecute the boy thief who had ransacked his pantry.

And then he withdraws the charge.

More, he offers to adopt the boy!

What was there about this boy—or about his story—that made the accuser relent?

Why did Hamilton suddenly determine to throw his home open to the lad who previously could not even be trusted into the pantry?

Furthermore, why did the boy when the occasion arose later, risk his life to secure the documents that made Hamilton's political success a certainty?

It will all be made clear as crystal when you see the superb Wm. D. Taylor special production

BLIND NEGRO CLAIMS HIS AGE IS 121.

(By International News Service) FULTON, Mo.—John Johnson, negro, who claims he is 121 years old, is blind, but he sees through the eyes of his son.

Johnson lives on his 160-acre acre near Williamsburg, which was given to him in Civil War days, shortly after slavery was abolished by his former "master," Joseph Everhart.

Johnson has sent one of his sons, sixty years old, to Fulton to visit J. E. Maughs and J. L. Maughs, grandson of the man who formerly owned Johnson, as a slave, so he could be able to tell his father how they looked on his return home. Johnson's memory of them was as, he had seen them as young men, more than a quarter of a century ago.

Johnson was born in 1799, and it is claimed that he has papers to bear out his birth record.

BLACK BEAUTY BECOMES THE HERO

Stories have been supplanted by the telephone, as well as by the automobile. Millions of readers of "Black Beauty," the tremendously popular "Autobiography of a Horse" by Anna Sewell, will remember John's wild ride on Black Beauty to summon the doctor when Mrs. Gordon was at the point of death. The physician would be called by telephone today.

Yet, with the passing of the horse from many fields of former service, since Anna Sewell wrote her wonderful book more than forty years ago, "man's noblest friend" still holds a firm place in the heart of humanity, and "Black Beauty" holds eighth place among the world's most popular books.

In preparing the motion picture version, to visualize "Black Beauty" as a Vitaphone all star special production, Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester labored long and earnestly to insure the faithful and accurate presentation of Anna Sewell's story, as she wrote it, on the screen.

Black Beauty is at the Colonial theater now.

PUBLIC UTILITIES WERE ONCE PURELY LOCAL AND UNREGULATED

"In the beginning all public utility companies were purely local enterprises; visionary ones most people thought. It was a time, remember, although so few years ago, when kerosene was the source of light (except in the larger cities where a few had gas lights); when wood and coal were the domestic and industrial fuels; when the horse and buggy was the local transportation, and messenger boys were the telephone system.

Pioneers in the industry even had struggles that left marks upon all subsequent history of their enterprises. The public had to be educated to use public utility service, but before there was any service to be used investors had to be educated to furnish the money with which to build the plants and service facilities and that was often a harder task than educating the public.

There was then no thought of "regulation." As these services proved their merit the first idea of every community was to get them at any price, but there were no volunteers to put up the necessary capital. The only way the companies could be financed was by issuing securities and selling them wherever money could be got."

The only way in which funds can be secured by the public utility companies at the present time is from the investing public. Unless a company can show the possible investor that his investment is safe and returns are sure he will not invest. Without the investor the properties of public utility companies cannot expand and in the same measure as their development is hampered, the development of the communities which they are attempting to serve is hampered.

If you are interested in the city in which you live you are interested in adequate utility service and adequate service can only come from adequate rates, adequate lighting rates, if you please, if you apply your thinking to the affairs of this company.

TRIO HELD FOR GRAND JURY ON ALLEGED RUM RUNNING TO THIS CITY

ELYRIA — Moses Rabinowitz, one of the men arrested by Sheriff Backus, Saturday night, charged with transporting liquor, has been held in $5,000 bail by United States Commissioner E. J. Hoyle, at Cleveland. His companions, Max Shapiro, Toledo, and Michael Burgoyne, were held in $2,500 bonds each.

Rabinowitz, according to Counts, assumed responsibility for the shipping of the alcohol, which was destined for Toledo. The three men are held by the federal grand jury.

Boy Taxi Bandit Is Also Held To Next Grand Jury

ELYRIA — Walter Gumbisky, 18, Lorain, arrested with Henry Connerth, 22, also of Lorain, on the charge of holding up John Proudfoot, taxi driver for the Worthington Taxi Co., Tuesday night and appropriating the Cadillac limousine, also placed guilty to the charge when arrived before Mayor A. C. Jones, Wednesday afternoon and was also held to the grand jury under $2,000 bond.

MASONIC MINSTRELS GIVE CLOSING SHOW

ELYRIA — A packed house saw the final performance of the Masonic Minstrel revue at the Rialto theater last evening.

The innumerable jokes and jesters took acceptably with the audience.

French Statistics Show U. S. Gets Much Wine

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON. — "Dry laws have not stopped the drinkers of sparkling French champagne.

Boat loads of that rare old luxury are now being used by Americans. This fact is shown by French government figures disclosing large increases in shipments of champagne to the United States.

French champagne exports to America buyers last year, the first twelve months of national prohibition, amounted to $34,000.

In the preceding year, before the Volstead law went into effect, France exported only $1,158 worth of champagne to the United States.

American Consul General Thackara, at Paris, called attention to the heavier outflow of French wine to America in his latest official report to the Commerce Department. He said the movement of champagne this year is equally large.

Government experts said the figures disclosed that Americans, there fore, consumed nearly 400,000 quarts of French champagne after the dry law went on a little more than a year ago.

French champagne and other rare wines from abroad are now coming into American ports under special permits issued to importers authorized by the government to handle such liquors for "medicinal" or other uses enumerated under the dry amendment.

EDISON EDUCATIONAL TEST IS CALLED "ARCHAIC" BY PROF.

(By International News Service) BOSTON — It is Thomas Edison, well known inventor, who is "amazingly ignorant," according to Professor Everett L. Getchell of the Boston University School of Business, in commenting on Edison's much noted list of questions and the inability of college students to answer them.

"The college graduate who could answer the questions would be no better employee for Edison after he had received 100 per cent" said the professor. "He simply could have a remarkable memory. I'm sure the average college professor could not answer 40 percent. Getchell admitted his own inability to do so."

"Mr. Edison," he continued, "by his recent remarks shows that his ideas on education are twenty years in arrears. His ideas are nothing short of archaic."

A Famous Story Made Into a Master Picture

All the elements that go into combination to make life invigorating, enjoyable and entertaining have been interwoven in this simple story of life in 1870. The rainy day in which the bridge across the river was swept away; that day when 'Black Beauty' saved his master's life; the rescue of the horses from the burning stables; the hunt, and the race between horse and locomotive are some of the big spectacular scenes in this film that cost

It is as sweet and clean a story as ever was filmed. For years the book has been read and reread by children and adults and ranks in popularity with the first half dozen classics of all time.

BROADWAY RAILWAY WORK MAY NEVER BE COMPLETED, IS WELL CONFIRMED REPORT

LORAIN—Repair work being done by the Lake Shore railway company on Broadway may never be completed.

C. P. Coon, superintendent of this division, who is now in this city superintending the work of right-of-way repairing, refused to make this statement in its entirety this morning, but he gave the impression that with the company's finances at their present low ebb it would be doubtful if the work could be completed.

"With buses running wild all over the city," declared Mr. Coon, "neither the street railway companies or the buses are making enough money to meet expenses."

"The upkeep of a street railway company requires a lot of money. We are doing the best we can under the present circumstances."

Mr. Coon refused to state whether the company's general manager, F. W. Coon, whose headquarters are in Sandusky, would take any action with regard to what the railway companies consider the unfair competition of motor buses.

An investigation at the city hall this morning revealed the fact that there are six bus companies operating in and about Lorain with licenses obtained from the mayor's office as compared with two last year.

A license for the operating of a bus can be obtained under present traffic laws at the mayor's office for a fee of $20 per year, and the deposit of a personal bond for $1,000.

Street car officials point out that their overhead charges, taxes and expenses which they must meet in order to keep up a continuous service twelve months in a year are much higher than those incurred by the bus lines.

The company, complains, unofficially, that the buses step in when the weather is fine and grab off a great deal of the trade.

Mayor Grall intimated this morning that he had not been approached by officials of the Lake Shore with a request that a traffic ordinance be passed to raise the license fee to bus companies to a semi-prohibitive scale.

He stated that he had heard that the street railway companies were contemplating bringing the matter before council.

If the Lake Shore company does not finish the job," declared Mayor Grall, "this morning," the city will remove the ties from the streets as soon as the cement has hardened sufficiently. If the delay is too long the city will fill in between the tracks with cinders."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR BIG MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

LORAIN—The Memorial Day parade here promises to be one of the largest and most impressive affairs held in years.

Representatives of all the war veterans' organizations and auxiliaries of the city will meet at the Veterans' hall—old Moose building—at 7 o'clock on Memorial Day, Monday, and go to the cemeteries to decorate the graves.

At 9 o'clock the parade will assemble on Broadway, between Twenty-second and the Elvira road and pass through the principal streets with the G. A. R. veterans as the honored members of the procession. There will be two bands and the parade will include units

AMERICAN MEN IN TOKIO DEBATE LONG BEFORE GRANTING WOMEN EQUALITY; WHEREUPON THE WOMEN REFUSE IT

TOKIO, May 26.—There is a kind of under-surface battle going on in the American colonies in Tokio and Yokohama right now. If you notice a tilt in the head of friend wife as she speaks to friend husband at a dinner of a dance, if you see friend fiancée give you a look of disdain, then you may at first be a bit worried over the cause of this untoward little occurrence. Then again you may stop and remember, "Women's rights."

About two months ago in Tokio the men held a meeting. Some man—he is lost now—or in hiding down in the South Seas somewhere, suggested that the women of Tokio be given full membership in the American association of the capital city. He suggested—then demanded a vote. Suffrage is now in vogue, he argued. Our country has so decided. Women are our equals. Let us meet and make money here in Tokio without them, as it were. Whereupon an argument followed and closed doors followed. Examine the details of that historic debate between the American men of the capital city and the women, but it is known a secret. It is known that the women and fiancées know the vote was close, so close that Yokohama, where Tokio news gets in now and then, the men, taking courage, partly refused the women's membership.

No Woman Accepted. Some man, a husband, informed a well known American woman in Tokio of the new honor that was to be theirs. "What answer?" A tilt of the head and that statement that "We don't want to belong to your American association!"

The feminine protector of women's rights knew what had transpired behind those closed doors. And the man knew she knew when in succession every woman member of the colony he spoke to refused with the same statement: "We don't want to belong to your organization."

Now Yokohama's membership is laughing over the quandary of the men of Tokio, who have extended the privilege of their councils to the women, and received a flat refusal on the part of those to whom has been extended the honor of the American association in Tokio. And the membership rolls of the American association in Tokio have not as yet been increased by a single, or married, member of the feminine American colony of the city.

A meeting of the committees for Memorial day exercises will be held tomorrow night in the Veterans' hall.

The Quackless Duck

San Francisco's contribution to the noiseless era is the quackless duck, noiseless fowls now being raised by Mrs. Annie E. Frary, of that city. Nothing has been done to make these peculiar ducks noiseless. When full grown they are about the size of a young turkey and have a shiny black plumage with shades of green and purple intermingled. They lay their eggs at all times of the year and are somewhat lazy, laying the eggs wherever they happen to be. The only sound they make is that of a soft coughing from the bottom of the throat. They can be heard only when one is close to the duck. The Muscovy Quackless Ducks is their real designation and Mrs. Frary is the possessor of nearly one hundred ribbons which her quackless ducks have won at various poultry shows. The photo shows Mrs. Frary with one of the quackless species.

In the municipal court in the past two months, due to her weakness for selling raisin jack, will leave soon to take up her residence in other climes, if she take advantage of the opportunity given her in the municipal court this morning, when Judge Harding fined her $750 and costs, but suspended $250 on condition that she leave this city within the next month.

Katie has been arrested twice on the charge of dealing in raisin jack, she was a victim in both raids that were made by state and local police.

ELYRIA SOCIETY

Youngsters Enjoy Birthday Party

ELYRIA—A very delightful birthday party was held at the home of Master Greenly Haynes on West avenue, Wednesday afternoon when his little friends congregated in the spacious lawn to help him celebrate his eighth birthday anniversary.

Seven little boy friends were there and the little host was much surprised when eight little maidens trooped in, as he had no inkling that members of the feminine sex were to join the assembly. The Victrola had been carried out onto the lawn also and so music was enjoyed along with the games. Prizes in the peanut hunt were won by Ruth Kelly, first, and Adel Mahlin, booby, and Frank Guske took the first for the boys while Jimmy Redington was doomed to be the booby.

The youngsters thoroughly enjoyed the dainty refreshments which were served out doors and the pink and white birthday cake with its bright candles were wished upon with utmost faith.

Those present at this delightful little affair were Misses Dorothy Turk, Rose Mary Redington, Eleanor Dams, Adel Mahlin, Elizabeth Mitchell, Irene Upton, Ruth Kelly, Agnes Guske and the little boys were: Raymond Blunger, David Sales, James Redington, Hubbard Wilcox, Frank Guske and John Biggs.

Fine Work to Be Shown in Exhibit

ELYRIA—The annual exhibit of the work done during the year in the Elyria high school and special work done in the grades will be held Friday afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock and Friday evening from 7 to 8:30 o'clock. In addition, during the hours just named the classes will be at work in their various rooms in order to give the public an opportunity of seeing them in operation.

In the exhibition there will be work from the household arts, which includes sewing, millinery, basket-making, pottery, and small articles of leather. The boys of the high school will furnish work in forging, sheetmaking, pattern-making, manual training, mechanical drawing.

The art room will furnish posters, paintings, drawings, studies, and any other kind of art work that has been done this year.

Miss Highland, a special teacher in the grades, will have specimens of penmanship and art work in the exhibit. The boys of the older grades make some very creditable pieces of work in manual training while the girls do as creditable work in sewing and work from each of these classes will be on exhibition.

Fine work is done in all of these classes and in many others that have not been mentioned here. It is certain that the public does not need to be urged to come for the people know that the exhibit will be well worth anyone's time and the parents of the children whose work is to be in the exhibit have a good right to be proud.

Association Elects Officers

ELYRIA—Twenty-five members were present at the final meeting of the Women's Association of the First Congregational Church held in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. This business one and any unfinished business was taken care of and any plans of the summer were discussed.

The officers of the coming year were also elected and are as follows:

President—Mrs. Frank Brown
First Vice President—Mrs. S. Hitt
Second Vice President—Mrs. George Philpott
Secretary—Miss Ethel Burrows
Treasurer—Mrs. Stanley Shaw
Missionary Treasurer—Mrs. Ralph Fay

Chairman of Foreign Department—Mrs. H. M. Miller
Secretary of Foreign Department—Mrs. Charles Johnson
Chairman of Home Department—Mrs. Will Thomas
Secretary of Home Department—Mrs. J. F. Glosser
Chairman of Church Department—Mrs. Ernest Birch

The work of each officer was thoroughly discussed and also the work of all the committees.

The sending of delegates to the conference at Lake Geneva this summer was discussed but no one has been appointed as yet. The work of the next year will be planned out by the delegates on their return from Geneva where they will be able to learn of new plans at the conference.

Importance of the Public Nurse

The term public health nurse has come to mean any form of nursing or instructive work in which the health of the public is concerned and in which her training as a nurse comes into play or is recognized as a valuable part of her equipment.

In starting the work in Elyria it is the opinion of the Board of Health that the school is the open door of the home. Therefore nursing supervision will be put into the schools that are not reached by the nurse employed by the board of education. Before the closing of the schools the children will be inspected to select those who do not measure up to normal and are deficient on account of physical defects. During the summer the homes of these children will be visited to urge the parents to have these defects corrected and enable them to improve the child's physical condition that he or she may be able to make their grade each year.

Miss Miskell also hopes to visit all tubercular patients and all homes where there has been a case of tuberculosis, that the contacts may be urged to use preventive measures by changing their mode of living and by building up their general health.

All prospective mothers and new babies should have attention that we may lessen our maternity and infant death rate by teaching mothers the proper care of themselves and their children. As soon as considered advisable, clinics will be established.

Home calls will be made to explain the doctor's recommendations and the probable results from neglected defects.

Persons desiring to communicate with the nurse, Miss Miskell will find her, for the present at Dr. French's office. Office hours until the close of school will be from 4 to 5.

MASONIC MINSTRELS SCORE ANOTHER HIT

ELYRIA—Another capacity house greeted the Masonic Minstrels at the Rialto theatre last night and with the experience of the previous night, the performance was even more finished if that were possible, than on Tuesday evening.

Through an error the song and dance by Miss Doris Austin in the sketch "Nothing but Rice," did not appear on the program. She rendered a very pleasing song and did a graceful dance. Miss Austin's act came as a pleasant surprise to the audience, because of the error in omitting her name from the program.

All members of the cast were entertained by the Masonic club at a banquet in the Masonic club dining room, after the performance last evening.

Stories were told and songs sung until an early hour this morning. The Masses expressed their thanks to the members of the cast for their loyal cooperation in putting on the show as well as to all others, including many merchants who loaned properties, who assisted and contributed in any way toward making the show the success that it was.

A. R. TO MEET

ELYRIA—The day set for the meeting of the Elyria members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has been changed to Sunday, May 28. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna on the Wellington road. Those attending will take the 10:30 train from Elyria.

PROMINENT RED CROSS WORKER TO FILL PULPIT

ELYRIA—The First Congregational church will extend welcome to members of the American Legion and Woman's Auxiliary, Elyria Post No. 12, at the patriotic service, Memorial Sunday, May 29th, at 10:45. The principal address will be given by Dr. S. E. Brewster, medical expert and world traveler, of the Lake Division, Red Cross Headquarters, Cleveland. "America's Greatest Problem" is his subject. It is the occasion of a recent appearance in Elyria, the local Red Cross efforts were so impressed with the importance of his message that they determined to invite him again to Elyria. The engagement with Dr. Brewster next Sunday is in fulfillment of this purpose and will doubtless fill a most fitting place in the Memorial Sunday program.

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVITIES

ELYRIA—The Junior Friendship club will meet in the gymnasium Friday afternoon, directly after noon and then go to the home of Mr. A. Fosselius on Princeton avenue, where they will enjoy a wicker roast. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Fosselius and Miss Hallman.

The Girl Reserves will meet on Saturday afternoon in the gym at 2 o'clock. There will be initiation services, after which the girls will check up the honors they have won. Miss Fern Smith will be in charge of this group.

Because of Memorial day on Monday, the 30th, the dining room at the Y. W. C. A. will be closed all day, opening again on Tuesday, serving three meals a day as usual.

BIRD PROTECTION

In my preceding articles I have endeavored to prove the economic value of the birds. I hope that I have made it clear to every one, that our birds must be protected. We know their value as cherry pickers, and happy songsters. What a desolate world this would be without the flitting of the birds of different sizes, and many colors. We have them in various shades of green, blue, grey, black, yellow, orange and red. And many of them have a combination of many colors, but the colors are so daintily blended, that they are ever pleasing to the eye of the most severe critic.

Many species of birds are in the gravest danger of extinction. Since so few species of our American birds have become extinct, there were no laws governing the slaughter of birds; and men and boys shot them indiscriminately, just for the love of the sport. Nature would take care of them, if it were not for civilized man. He not only destroys them, but he has cut away all of the large forests, in this section of the country, and drained the great swamps, where so many birds find a home and plenty of food.

The last Passenger Pigeon, so far as known, died in the Zoo at Cincinnati, a few years ago. They used to be the most numerous of any American bird; now they are extinct. But it is not to be wondered at, when we learn from statistics, that in 1869, three car loads of these fine birds were shipped, daily, for forty consecutive days, from Hartford, Mich. And from another town near there 19,840,000 of these birds were slaughtered in two years.

There are many birds that today are not protected by Federal laws. We must have more laws, and better ones, to protect them. In order to get these laws we must have organizations to see that something is done. Our law makers can say, that so long as the people do not care, there is no reason why they should bother to help get some such law. But let each representative get a letter from a number of bird clubs, asking to have him help to get some bill passed, and he will be apt to pay some attention to it. Without organization we can do nothing, but we can protect, "in union there is strength." We can organize. Let us think very seriously on the subject, and see if we do not wish to belong to a club where we can learn more of the birds, as well as to help to protect and keep them with us, that we may be able to keep alive each species of them, that coming generations may also enjoy them, even more than we do.

Such a club is soon to be organized, under the auspices of the Home Economics Department, of the Woman's Civic Club. Watch this space for the date and place of meeting.

Timely Hints to Home Gardeners

Arrangement of the Garden
The arrangement of the garden should be carefully worked out to suit the conditions of each particular garden. In the winter, when there is usually plenty of time available, it is a good plan to sit down with paper, pencil and rule and draw up a plan of the garden. Mark on this plan the location for each vegetable and the area covered, the successions, date of planting, etc. By making a plan and following it throughout the season the greatest success will be had with the garden.

While each garden must be planned to suit the conditions, there are a few general rules which apply to all gardens. The rows should run north and south, to give the best distribution of sunlight on all sides of the plants, but where it is more convenient, and where washing must be prevented, the rows can run in other directions. All permanent vegetables, such as rhubarb, asparagus and herbs, should be planted at one side of the garden, where they will not be disturbed every year. Tall vegetables, like corn and pole beans, should be put in a position where they will not shade the small vegetables. Wherever the land is available and horse cultivation can be used, allow sufficient space between rows for the larger cultivating tools.

Also run the rows long way of the garden to avoid excessive turning at the ends of the rows or horse cultivation provide a 4 or 5 foot pathway along two sides of the garden at right angles to the rows, so that turning with the cultivator can be managed without injuring the vegetables. All vegetables that are to be planted early and that require early cultivation should be grouped at one side of the garden, to facilitate cultivation. The distances given for rows are for horse cultivation.

Feather Cakes
Two cups flour, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, pinch of salt, 1 egg, 1 cup sweet milk, 1-4 cup shortening. Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder, together into bowl. Make a hole in the center, then add egg, milk, shortening, and flavoring. Beat all together until creamy and bake.

Salted
Two cups shelled peanuts, 1 cup celery cut fine, 1-2 cup olives, cut fine. Mix with mayonnaise dressing 1-2 hour before serving. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Fruit Cookies
One 1-2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup butter, 3 eggs, nutmeg, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon, cinnamon.

Set the bread to raise in the mixer either in the morning or at night. I prefer the morning, as it is easier to keep the temperature right and watch the raising process.

Put in the bread mixer four tablespoons of shortening, four tablespoons of sugar and five teaspoons of salt, all level. Pour over these ingredients a quart of scalding liquid—milk, water or milk and water. This will melt the shortening.

In the meantime soften two yeast cakes in one-quarter cup of lukewarm water. Set lukewarm, remember, not hot. When the mixture in the mixer has cooled to lukewarm add the softened yeast. Sift, then measure thirteen cups of bread flour, and add all at once to the yeast and the liquid in the mixer. Turn the handle steadily for three minutes.

Grease the sides so that the dough can readily be removed after it has risen. Then cover, wrap towels around it, and place where it is warm. Allow the dough to double its bulk. Then by turning the handle of the mixer two or three times the dough is pulled around the blade, leaving the sides clean so the dough can be lifted out. Shape into loaves. It is better to make small loaves than large ones.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

HAPPY GIRL. Return to your husband, my dear, and resolve to make a success of your marriage. Remember your marriage vows and do your part towards observing them. Happiness is found by helping others and making them happy and forgetting yourself and your selfish interests. Go back, dear, and make the best of things, and the mere fact that you are doing your duty should make you happy.

Put all thoughts of the other man out of your mind. Happiness does not lie that way. How can it, if you truly love your husband?
ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie:
I am a girl of 18. I have been going with a boy of 18, and was to have been engaged soon, but someone told untrue things of me and the engagement was broken. He gave up drinking when he first met me, but since I have refused to see him, he has gone back to his old habit again.

Do you think that he could love me and also believe the things which he heard?

About three weeks ago I met another young man of 20 and have been going with him quite frequently.

The other boy heard of this and he called and told me that he did not believe the things which he heard.

Shall I forgive him?
SMILES.

SMILES: If he cared for you, my dear, he would not believe idle gossip concerning you. You may forgive him, but it would be better not to be in a hurry about taking him back as an intimate friend. Let his present and future conduct guide you in the matter of reinstating him in your good graces.
ANNIE LAURIE.

MEXICO CITY, May 26.—The committee of the Chamber of Deputies which has been considering the bill presented by President Obregon for the creation of a central bank will make its report soon, it is announced. One of the members is quoted as saying that the measure will be approved with certain modifications and provided the government agrees to subscribe one-half of the capital.

In some respects few college seniors of twenty or over would have done better. He is, however, totally uninterested in mechanics or manufacturing as shown by the fact that he makes reply to such questions as those which exact a light knowledge of how leather is tanned or how auto tires are composed. There are many youngsters of normal brightness who would have been eager to tell you they knew of things of the kind.

"On the other hand, there are mature men capable of writing brilliant papers, essays and novels or editorials; capable of painting masterpieces; of composing or conducting symphonies, who would, no doubt, possess the necessary knowledge on their part about the manufacture of a hat. They would ignore the question as this had been done, and probably with less embarrassment.

Not Artistic.
"The boy is plainly not attracted by artistic things. He has paid no attention to the lines in the old recitation beginning 'Of all the operas Verdi wrote the best, to my taste is the 'Trovatore.' He does not even regard the citation of the magazines and newspapers he likes as pertinent to an analysis of his mental equipment."

However, is phenomenal when it comes to figures and names. Where he makes a mistake, as when he ascribes the founding of the New York Herald to Horace Greeley, his error is natural. He thinks of Greeley, as the father of all newspapers."

Useful to Edison.
"How would I rate the value of the questions as an 'intelligence test?' Well, they are plainly meant to indicate to Mr. Edison the direction of man's interest rather than the degree of his mental sensitiveness. He includes, for instance, a question about laundry machines. It may be of no importance to the average citizen to know much about laundry machines, but it is important to Mr. Edison to know whether a man is concerned about the manufacture of household utensils."

To Whiten and Clear the Skin

Muddy or sallow complexion, skin that is rough, dry, and cracked, are all signs of a skin that needs to be whitened and cleared. Use the following:

Take some glycerine and stano and dissolve in water. You will find the result to be a beautiful white cream and by its liberal use a tremendous improvement will be noted in the complexion within a few days. The ingredients may be obtained in any drug store.

You Who Have So Often Wished For Something That Really Would Remove the Wrinkles

Just learn what a difference there can be between cream freshly made at home and one that has been standing for months on a drug store shelf.

The skin can be brought back to its original plumpness and vigor by the use of this formula. An astonishing result is the quick disappearance of wrinkles and lines of age. It is simple and can be prepared in a few moments by adding a half a pint of water one tablespoonful of glycerine and two ounces of stano. This takes years from your appearance and is always effective. It is the only skin cream that will apply it liberally, every day.

To Have the Arms Fit Soft and Free from Creases

You can be sure that there is but one sensible way to remove hairs from the arm pits, and in fact, from any part of the body. It is by using the "Burr" cream, which is the only one that will actually dissolve away the hair from the root and leave the skin so soft and smooth. It will not irritate

PILLNANT'S NAME WAS OMITTED

ELYRIA — In publishing the names of soldiers buried in Elyria cemeteries the name of William Pillnant was inadvertently omitted. He is buried in Ridgeland, and his grave is properly marked. It may be that there are other names omitted and if so, a telephone message to this office will see that they are properly recognized.

SMOKING BY PROXY SCORED

(By International News Service) BOSTON — A protest against smoking by proxy has been made public by the Rev. William H. Van Allen, rector of the Church of the Advent, an arch opponent of nicotine.

"Are there any public places in Boston where social non-smokers may be allowed to breathe air un-mixed with the fumes of tobacco?" he asks.

"It must be acknowledged that there are multitudes of reasonable people to whom these fumes are utterly obnoxious, as offensive as sulphuretted hydrogen, for instance. They have no wish to interfere with the smoker's liberty, when he is with others like minded, but they wonder by what canon of justice or courtesy they are deprived of their own liberty not to smoke by proxy."

There's a thorn to every rose. The meek will probably inherit the war debt along with the earth.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

Why Not Let the Rent Money Buy a Home?

"It's cheaper to rent than to buy," is a pet remark often heard. But did you ever talk to a "cheaper to rent than to buy sort of a man ten years later?" INTRODUCING OUR NEW SENATORS

James Thomas Heflin.
(Democrat.)

Former Congressman, Now U. S. Senator from Alabama, Succeeding Mr. Bankhead (deceased).
(By International News Service)

James Thomas Heflin.

MR. READER:

Meet the most picturesque of the new democratic senators — James Thomas Heflin, of Alabama. Senator Heflin took his seat during final weeks of the late Senate, filling the place held by the late John H. Bankhead. During those few weeks he sustained a reputation he had previously made in the house as a statesman who can talk long and loudly. Senator Heflin is big and good natured, a partisan of the old school, and proud, deeply proud, of the fact that he is a "democrat from Dixie," and represents the "solid south." He is witty and his command of negro dialect stories often convulses the democratic cloak room.

Senator Heflin and Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, were leading Democratic members of the House before the Senatorial toga enveloped them.

Local War Vets Get History of Memorial Day

LORAIN — "There are perhaps many who do not know the origin of Memorial Day, or Decoration Day," remarked Commander W. T. Shaw, of the Lorain Spanish-American war camp, and there have been many different statements published as to the origin of the day when we pay memory to the departed war heroes and our friends who sleep in the cities of the dead, continued the veteran of the war of 1898, and I have made an effort to get the authentic history of Memorial Day, which I received through the national headquarters of the United Spanish war headquarters, which reads:

"Decoration Day, set apart each year for the purpose of decorating graves in national cemeteries and of commemorating soldiers and sailors who served in the civil war, is a legal holiday in all states and territories of the union except Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina and Texas. According to a speech made by Chaney M. Dewey, it originated when southern women and children after the war strewn flowers over graves of soldiers, both Confederate and Union. In 1868, Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., issued an order that on May 30, of that year every post, east and west, should scatter tokens of respect over resting places of their comrades in arms. Later the legislatures took up the matter. May 30 was probably chosen because on that date flowers are plentiful in practically all states."

Sufficient Flowers For Memorial Day

LORAIN — Flowers will not be plentiful for Memorial Day on next Monday, but there will be a sufficient "to go round," as expressed by a local florist.

It is anticipated that Memorial day will be more largely observed here this year than for a long time and that all the graves of the soldiers who rest in the cemeteries of this community will be strewn with flowers, while a small American flag will be placed at the head of each of their resting places.

The florists' slogan "Say it with flowers" will be carried out by placing flowers on the graves of soldiers who sleep in the cities of the dead in this section on next Monday.

It is still a long way to normalcy when a lot of girls who were satisfied with porch swings last year are insisting on automobiles. — Sacramento Union.

To Complete Plans For Chest Drive

LORAIN — Preliminary plans will be completed tomorrow evening at the Chamber of Commerce Forum dinner for the Community Chest campaign, which is to begin on June 13.

The campaign grew out of the organization by the Chamber of Commerce representing twenty of Lorain's welfare and charity organizations, ten of which will participate in the funds to be raised for the community chest. This merging into one strong effort what would otherwise be done in about ten separate campaigns at a far greater cost of time and energy as well as money.

The welfare and charity work of the following organizations will be taken care of from the community chest:

American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, Child Conservation League, Federation of Women's Clubs, Salvation Army, Temple Sisterhood, Y. M. C. A., Americanization committee, Supervised Children and recreations and hospitals.

Besides the above organizations there will be established a clearing house for all welfare work to prevent, so far as possible, all pauper profiteering and overlapping of charity effort.

Robert E. Lewis, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Cleveland, who acted as secretary of the big community chest drive in Cleveland will be our chief speaker and the success of the campaign will to some extent be indicated by the interest and enthusiasm shown in this meeting.

You are no doubt definitely interested in one or more of the participating organizations and will doubtless be actively interested in the raising of the total budget.

TO DISPLAY WAR RELICS IN WINDOW

LORAIN — Another rare treat in store for the Spanish War Veterans when they come here for the Ohio Spanish War Veterans' encampment in the week of June 26, will be a national collection of war relics which will be brought here by W. D. Tucker, national historian, on June 23 and 24.

The collection will be placed in the windows of the Lorain Dry Goods company, and if necessary part of the floor space on the second floor will be utilized. This collection has never been shown in a department encampment before.

The father of his first child feels that the world is full of fine people until he meets the chap who has just bought his first automobile. — El Paso Herald.

Authorities Tell of Zoning System

LORAIN — In connection with zoning, which is so badly needed in this city, Herbert S. Swan, secretary of the Zoning Committee of New York city, and consultant to several commissions on city planning in various cities, in a communication to the Lorain Chamber of Commerce:

"Keeping all kinds of industry out of residential districts goes a long way toward improving social conditions. Zoning offers at one stroke without any expense or increase in rents, a method of protecting such housing standards as we have achieved, against steady deterioration. It does more than that, for it defines the direction and character of city growth, and it lays the foundation for an ever increasing improvement in the social and economic conditions affecting the whole community."

"Never has the relationship between good housing and successful industry been more real and plain, and the reduction for a large extent upon what improvement can be effected in industrial housing. So long as no protection is thrown about the environment of the workman's home so long as it is allowed to be hemmed in with manufacturing establishments, pouring out grime, dirt and smoke, we can expect slums where our workmen's homes should be."

"If Lorain is to grow to a great manufacturing center," said a prominent social worker here to day, "we must start now and lay out plans so that our fair city will grow in the right directions."

Police Recover Many Stolen Bicycles Here

LORAIN — While some cities have had an epidemic of automobile theft, it remains for Lorain to escape such, but it perhaps hold the record for bicycle stealing.

It is said that there have been for the last several months about an average of one bicycle stolen a day.

To the credit of the police, the majority of the "wheels" have been quickly recovered. The stealing was done principally by boys and like some automobile "joyriders," after taking a spin, would abandon the machine.

All the boys who have been found stealing bicycles have been brought before Mr. John Cobb, probation officer, and given a good sound lecture. When the same boy commits the second offense he is usually sent to a place where stealing can not be done.

"Germany plans to make fresh proposals." That's been the true point of view, — Richmond (Ind.) Item.

TERROR FACES GREAT BRITAIN

By EARL C. REEVES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON—Lenin, the agent of Germany, who was sent to Russia with ten million dollars of German money with which to remove Russia from the war, is today working in the interest of Germany by attempting to spread revolution in England thereby removing her from the field of industrial competition.

Such is the interpretation of the facts behind Britain's present industrial crisis given by the Duke of Northumberland, England's greatest land owner and coal baron. He accuses the great rank and file of labor from the charge of being the ignominious tools of Lenin, and hence of Germany, but declares that the attempt to extend Britain's coal strike to the Triple Alliance, including railway and transport workers, "if realized, would have meant and was intended to mean revolution."

"The main purpose and origin of the strike remain a sealed book to most Englishmen," he said.

"The first fact to realize is that we have in our midst today a powerful enemy organization working for our destruction. This enemy organization is known as the Red International of Moscow. It is controlled by a body of Russian and Jewish adventurers whose purpose is the abolition of all law, order, morality and religion throughout the world; in fact, the destruction of civilization. In order to achieve this purpose, the first aim is the complete overthrow of the British Empire, because that is the principal bulwark of law and order in the world."

German Intrigue Scented

"In the course of a few months Lenin succeeded in demoralizing the Russian people, and in the course of four years the greatest empire in the world has been reduced to a chaos and barbarism more degraded than that of any savage race. The immediate result of Lenin's success was that Germany was able, in the spring of 1918, to concentrate overwhelming numbers in France, and almost to inflict a decisive defeat on the British and French armies. When the war came to an end, a defeated and humiliated, but still defiant and unrepentant Germany looked about her for the means of repairing the losses she had suffered in territory and in wealth and of recovering her position in the world.

"She used Russian Bolshevism for the purpose of sowing the seeds of revolution in all the Entente countries. In doing this she ran great risks, since the poison was bound to spread to Germany itself. But events have justified her in taking those risks; every revolutionary movement in Germany has been ruthlessly suppressed.

"If the risk was great, the prize was also great; it was the same prize that she had striven for during the war—world domination.

Triple Alliance Dangerous Weapons
"After the conclusion of the war the executive who was in the closest touch with the Soviet Government through its emissary, Litvinoff, endeavored to bring about a strike of the Triple Alliance before the country had time to recover from the confusion caused by demobilization. This strike being intended to lead to a revolution. There is no doubt at all about this. Lenin informed us that he saw in the Triple Alliance a very formidable weapon for creating a revolution in this country. Since that time every effort has been made to corrupt its leaders and to bring about a situation which would be favorable for striking a blow at the very foundation of our social and industrial system. The railway strike of 1919 and the coal strike of 1920 were preliminaries to the great coup.

"After the last coal strike Mr. Brace and Mr. Vernon Hartshorn were given their dismissal. They were honest and patriotic men, for whom there was no place in a revolutionary organization.

"Red agents," Northumberland charges, "have found support even among moderate labor leaders. Dread Terror Ahead.

"It was not these moderate leaders who prevented the Triple Alliance strike. The only reason it did not take place was that they found out that their men would not follow them into a revolution. So they threw over the miners at the eleventh hour. They were confronted with the alternatives of betraying their colleagues, or of betraying their country, and they preferred the former alternative, but they only decided not to betray their country when they knew the British working man would not support them.

"When Germany sent Lenin to Russia she entrusted him with three tasks: first, to demoralize and ruin Russia; second, to set up an organization for spreading revolution in the Entente countries; thirdly, to hand Russia over to Germany. These three tasks have now been fulfilled, the third within the last few weeks. The exploitation of Russia by Germany has begun. And it will not be very long before this filmy new Central European states and its filmy League of Nations will scatter to the winds, and another bid for the domination of the world, and the true measure of the danger may be seen when we remember that we are no longer a united nation confronting a foreign menace; the enemy today is not only without but within—there are traitors in the camp."

FIRST PICTURES FROM WAR-TORN SILESIA

The Polish threat to occupy Upper Silesia and subsequent action to carry out the same has turned the country again into a war-ridden region. The armed rebel force, followers of Korfanty, have spread terror throughout the territory. The above photo, one of the first taken in this country from the disturbed area, pictures a typical scene in Upper Silesia when the insurgents sought to block the advance of troops seeking to down the rebellion caused by the results of the plebiscite. Below insurgents are shown manning a machine gun on a roadway in the terrorized zone.

Air Flight Restores Voice to Dumb Girl

(By International News Service.) DENVER—Miss Edna Kemper of North Bend, Neb., has had her voice restored by an airplane flight, according to announcement here by Dr. E. D. Starbird, of this city, who recommended the "altitude treatment."

Miss Kemper climbed 6,100 feet above Denver, or more than 11,000 feet above sea level, in her efforts to regain her power of speech, establishing a new altitude record for women in the Rocky Mountain region. She was in the air about fifty minutes.

The experiment with Miss Kemper was the first of the kind ever made in the West, although the therapeutic value of the air flights for loss of speech has been established in a few cases in other parts of the country.

Miss Kemper has been afflicted for a year with semi-paralysis of the vocal cords and had been unable to speak above a whisper. She came to Denver recently from her home in North Bend, Neb., and consulted

Dr. Starbird, who told her of successful altitude treatments in the East. "On the fifth day after the flight," Dr. Starbird said, "Miss Kemper's voice came back to her. Two days later she lost her voice again for two hours, but it came back then apparently as strong and clear as previously. Her voice is perfectly clear now, but, hardly strong enough to permit her to shout. I believe it will gradually strengthen, however, and become normal in every respect."

Miss Kemper lost her voice following an attack of influenza. PLEISTINE TOOK TWO FALLS NEWARK, O., May 26.—Marin Pleistina, of Chicago, defeated John Evko, Toronto, Canada, in two straight falls here last night. Time of both falls was 35 minutes.

FRENCH LEADER SCORES WILSON MISTAKE

By NEWTON C. PARKER, (U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, May 26.—Gaston Doumergue, former prime minister of France, and vice-president of the senate committee on foreign affairs, has advised French diplomats against attempting to induce the United States to enter the League of Nations or to ratify the Versailles treaty.

France's policy, he said, should be to abstain from meddling in America's internal affairs. "The flat rejection of the treaty of Versailles and of the covenant of the League of Nations is certainly very painful to us," said M. Doumergue. "France has no other legal claim on Germany except that provided in the treaty."

"But American action should have surprised no one. It was a consequence, almost inevitable, of the error committed by France and her allies in ignoring the fact that President Wilson's signature obligated no one but himself. A better understanding of the Constitution of the United States of America and public opinion would have enabled us to avoid this serious mistake."

"It is too late to repair a fault already committed and there is nothing to be gained by weeping over it. It is much better to retain this lesson: two peoples, who possess mutual esteem and friendship for one another, have permitted a misunderstanding with infinite consequences to raise itself between them. Only absolute frankness and courageous confidence will cause it to disappear."

"We can only bow with respect before the frankness of President Harding, who, in the face of his own country and of the other nations of the world, refuses to approve the personal policies of his predecessor. We have no reason, on that account, to diminish our confidence in the loyal Americans who gave her blood on our battlefields for justice and liberty. It is the undeniable right of the United States and of her government to take a sovereign and independent attitude and to reject a treaty which she has not constitutionally ratified."

Another "Scrap of Paper." France has too much respect for the interior and exterior policy of her friends and allies to permit anything which might resemble an attempt to meddle in American affairs. It should be a matter of dignity on our part to make no observations on the subject of the treaty of Versailles, which has been rejected by the United States.

"But France can and should say, diplomatically, that she renounces none of her rights in the face of a Germany too much tempted to evade her responsibilities. The signature of France is the best proof of the Versailles pact and it has been constitutionally ratified by the French parliament. We have not the right to go back on our signature. It would be a fatal imprudence for us to permit Germany to consider this treaty as a new scrap of paper solely because some of its clauses were judged incompatible with the Constitution and national sentiment of the United States."

Harding's Policy Approved. This reserve, it seems, should be as easily accepted at Washington as we accept, in Paris, the reserves of President Harding. Between honest people there is never any misunderstanding. Indeed, there are indications in the attitude attributed to the new president of the United States that he disinterests himself neither from France, nor the subject of reparations, nor the future of peace and the safeguarding of civilization in the world. That should be sufficient for us. "There are two things which the United States will never dream of throwing aside, whatever the vicissitudes of her interior politics. The first is the unanimous and spontaneous spirit of a great people aroused by a flagrant crime, conscious of the danger threatening the liberty of the world, and resolved to give her last man and her last dollar for the triumph of the cause which she knows to be just. The second is the sentiment, innate in the American conscience, that justice should have its dues, cost what it may, and that the innocent should not suffer for the guilty.

BOMB SUSPECT HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Stoutly protesting his innocence, Giuseppe De Filippo, latest of Wall Street bomb disaster suspects to be caught in the Federal net, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Charles Hennrichson in Jersey City, and held without bail on a warrant charging him with attempting to destroy the Assay Office. De Filippo has been identified by three persons, according to the police, who allege De Filippo was the driver of the wagon of explosives that killed thirty-nine persons at Broad and Wall streets on September 16 last. The photograph shows De Filippo (center) being taken under guard to the Hudson County jail. On the left is U. S. Marshal Louis G. Beekman.

"Here are our best guarantees in the face of a Germany inspired by bad faith and becoming insolent; the Franco-American fraternity of arms and the sentiment of justice so sacred with all Americans. It was not with the purpose of leaving us without defense before an enemy still more prosperous in defeat than we are, ruined by our bloody victory, that the legions of America have crossed and recrossed the Atlantic."

Don't strike a match to find the jinx in your motor

SHE won't go! Just when you're in a terrible hurry to make the theatre. Confound the motor, anyway. You'd give five dollars to find that jinx! You can't see—you don't dare strike matches—why didn't you get some lights when you built the garage?

A trouble-lamp, a milk-white-50-watt-Mazda lamp, one side shaded—is an absolute necessity. So is a ceiling light with reflector, to light your workbench.

"Pshaw! Some men are born stupid—and stay that way—"

In the house, one should never strike a match in the attic, clothes closet, vegetable closet, or the closet where, for old time's sake, some Precious Stuff is guarded. Matches are made to start fire—not to see with. Even the match manufacturers will tell you to get proper electric lights.

WAVE HUNGARY FIRST

Nation First to Take Drastic Steps to Restore Its Financial Standing Among Nations

By NEWTON C. PARKE,
T. S. Staff Correspondent.

May 26.—Hungary is the first country emerging from the financial problems of the war, even though the wisdom of the step she is about to take is questioned.

Imposing some more taxes and waiting for Germany to pay reparations; Germany and Austria are imposing more taxes waiting for a revival of the war trade; Austria admits bankruptcy and is turning her attention over to the Allies and the smaller Balkan countries are crying for help.

But the Hungarian government has decided to lay a direct tax on capital, a measure proposed by French socialists as best fitted to bring France financial relief but which was turned down. The bill has been drafted and is about to be introduced in the Hungarian parliament in the hope that it will bring Hungary quickly to her feet.

The measure proposed by Hungary is the most radical ever proposed by any modern government. It provides first for a tax, ranging from 5 to 20 per cent on savings deposits and securities. Hungarian banks will thus be forced to turn over to the government a sum estimated at about half a million dollars.

From Time Service Rewarded.
The most unique feature of the bill is the distinction, for purposes of taxation, between men who actually served at the front during the war and those who occupied "dug-out positions in the rear. The latter will be heavily taxed according to their wealth and some of them will be forced to turn over fifty per cent of their incomes. But a millionaire who himself served in the war but lost a son in the war will be taxed the same way as a soldier who served at the front.

The bill also provides war-profits. Every manufacturer who, by using the importance of his business, succeeded in obtaining draft exemption for his men, will be forced to pay a tax of 2,000 crowns for each man thus kept from the front. This sum, together with that raised by taxation of non-combatants will be used in paying pensions to wounded soldiers.

A tax de luxe that will make similar measures in other countries look extremely feeble is another feature of the bill. Extravagances in women's clothing will be hit hard and there are other clauses designed to drag money from the man who drinks or smokes.

In introducing the bill the Chancellor of the Exchequer will announce that hereafter Hungary will have no more paper money and that the government intends to practice every economy to restore its financial condition to normal.

The first result of the enforcement of the proposed law, the government believes, will be a marked fall in the cost of living. Since the war the price of potatoes has increased by 61 times; pork 111 times and beef 68 times. Even members of once wealthy families have been unable to buy any new clothes since the war.

Prominent Persons Act as Strikebreakers on Aquitania

The marine strike failed to stop the steamship Aquitania on her recent voyage from England to New York. Cotterell, assistant general manager of the line, was in charge of the stewards.

MANY EX-SERVICE MEN JOBLESS HERE

LORAIN—It was stated this morning by a local federal official, who is in position to know what he is talking about, that there are hundreds of able-bodied ex-service men in Lorain who are out of employment; in fact, the speaker said that a large percentage of them have been unemployed for many months and some of them have never been given back their old jobs that they were forced to relinquish to enter the service.

The official said that there are scores of women and girls in this community who took men's jobs when they were called to the colors that have shown no inclination to surrender them; that some of them have been working for small salaries in holding down the jobs and living at home, while the ex-soldiers, many of whom suffered privations and sacrifices at the front, upon their returned home they had no job.

"It's time that some of these women and girls, as well as some men, surrender the jobs they took when the boys left for the service amidst cheers and tears, when the country was aflame with patriotism," said the official.

FURTHER RISE IN OIL PRICES PREDICTED

May Be Expected—
Holders Refuse to Sell.

(By International News Service.)
OIL CITY, Pa., May 26.—Oil buying leads up a couple of notches, as exclusively forecasted by the International News Service correspondent a week before the first boost, speculation as to when the next rise will occur is in full swing among oil producers here.

That another rise will occur perhaps before the end of next week is being confidently predicted. To this is added the further prediction that Pennsylvania crude, before many weeks, will reach or pass the $4 mark. A survey of conditions in the producing and refining fields here leads to the conclusion that there is good ground for forecasting further advances.

When the price paid for Pennsylvania crude oil dropped below $3 producers at once cancelled all drilling plans not already under way or not contracted. By the time the price had reached $4 a barrel producers who could at all afford to had ceased selling to refiners, holding their production either in the pipe lines and paying storage charges, or running it into their own storage tanks.

Just what this meant and why it has caused the price of crude to start upward again can best be conceived when it is stated that a single producer, said to control an output of close to 10,000 barrels a month has sold no oil for about three months. Add to this curtailment the output from hundreds of smaller leases throughout the field and it is not overestimating it to state that sales were curtailed to past two months at a rate equivalent to more than 400,000 barrels of Pennsylvania crude a year.

Activities Point to Third Rise.
Curtailed at this rate, added to the fact that for some years prior to last January reserve stocks of Pennsylvania crude had been steadily declining, in itself a sufficient explanation for the advance in price. When to this is added the well authenticated information that the Seep Purchasing Agency, which supplies the Standard Oil Company and subsidiaries with its crude, and which quotes prices for oil generally understood to be first approved by the Standard, in boosting the price to $3.25 has done little more than top the price many independent refiners already had been paying, it is not difficult to foresee, a third rise in the very near future. The first rise was quickly followed by a second to $3.50 in each instance the advance being 25 cents per barrel.

Another factor that is expected to further force prices upward is that the present increase in prices has not stimulated selling of crude materially as is only natural. It

TRIPLINGS IN INSTALLMENTS

(By International News Service.)
LONDON—Triplings in installments.

This remarkable event is chronicled in the official birth returns of Berlin, which have just been published.

The wife of a working man gave birth to two healthy girls. Mother and girls were doing well, when, to the surprise of the doctor, and, one may imagine, the dismay of the father, a third girl was born seven weeks later.

The newest arrival is also a lusty infant, and, according to the latest reports, the whole family is in excellent health.

is invariably difficult to induce people to sell any commodity on a rising market. Oil producers, justifying their refusal to sell at the $3 price because this represented a figure below actual cost of operations, point to the fact that it costs more than $3.50 a barrel to produce crude oil now, and those who have been holding their oil in storage are mostly planning on continuing to do so.

Four Thousand Irishmen Out of Work.

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Because of their political beliefs and activities 4,384 Irishmen have been arrested or interned, and are at present held away from their employment, despite the fact that 3,000 are the sole or main support of the families, according to a statement made today through the American Committee on Irish Relief.

Of this number, 2,576 are at present interned and have been given no trial, while the number of persons in prison and "awaiting trial" is given as 1,208. In addition some 1,300 persons are serving prison terms for political offenses.

"These arrested persons, mainly are clerks, shop assistants, farmers, farmers' sons, merchants and other townspeople and elected public representatives," said the statement. "Some 15,000 women and children are directly affected by these imprisonments."

"Moreover there are in Ireland about 5,000 'wanted' for political offenses; some 3,000 of these have families depending upon them, but owing to their being fugitives of the Crown they are unable to earn a livelihood for their dependants."

"In the Belfast district alone 8,000 Catholic workers have been driven from their employment because of their religious and political beliefs, and these and their dependants, who together number 30,000, are utterly destitute."

The statement declares that the destruction of property by British forces has resulted in enormous economic loss and widespread distress. From January 1 until April 15 of this year the British military and constabulary have destroyed wholly 1412 farm-houses and buildings, shops, creameries, factories, public halls and clubs and private residences, while 1,538 of these types of buildings have partially been destroyed.

"That is exclusive of robbery, looting, shooting of cattle, destruction of furniture, partial wrecking of rooms and all minor damage," the statement said. "Looting alone is on an enormous scale, and in many cases of robbery all the savings of the family have been taken, in addition to valuable personal property."

interstate treaties in settlement of these disputes out of court.

Carpenter is a native Coloradoan and a former state senator. He has devoted many years to irrigation and interstate water litigation in the higher courts of the state and has been successful in negotiating treaties and interstate compacts with neighboring States concerning the use and distribution of the waters of dozens of streams which have their source in Colorado.

The appointment of Carpenter and similar appointments in surrounding states open a new era for the settlement and prevention of the bitter disputes that have raged for years in the west, with Colorado as the storm center because of the fact that most of the important waterways of this region have their sources in the mountains of this state.

Several of the states, in addition to Colorado, have already enacted the legislation and appointment of other "envoys" is expected soon.

The joint high commission plans to put an end to interstate "wars" by putting water rights that have been carried on in the form of litigation before the United States supreme court, and the several states will name "ambassadors" to negotiate

Any One Would Be Mad Losing This Wardrobe

GALION, O., May 26.—When a physician discovered a stranger on a rural road muttering incoherently, he took him to the nearest hospital, where he mumbled the name of Joseph Skilbs, but could give no further account of himself. Then it was found that the demented man was wearing six shirts, four suits of underwear and two pairs of socks. An effort to divest the stranger of a portion of his apparel caused him to become exceedingly violent. He will be sent to a state hospital.

Dokey Baseball Team is Real Contender for City Championship

LORAIN—The Dokey baseball nine are rapidly coming into prominence as the real contender for city championship honors. The record they have registered already this season would be envied by the best class triple A teams in this section of the state.

They have at present on their roster one of the finest galaxy of baseball stars ever assembled in the history of baseball here and it looks as though they will have little trouble in coming out on the long end of the city baseball honors this season.

Their pitching staff in perfect. Dragert, star ace of the club has been formerly connected with the Telling-Strother baseball nine of Cleveland and while with that aggregation has recorded victories over the White Autos and several other strong Class AAA teams of that city. He has won every game he has worked in for the Lodgemans so far this season.

Eller and Hecker are also included as left hand members of the capable pitching staff. Eller displayed his championship calibre when he performed against the strong city team of Akron recently. In this fracas he held that aggregation scoreless in four innings and allowed them to tally a few weak hits. Hecker's reputation as a hurler is already assured. He has been connected with some of the best teams in the city in recent years and has been a big factor in bringing the honors to his team.

Sanborn, Troxel, Gutro, Clark and Haddow are the star members of a well balanced infield. Of the mentioned players Haddow will show the greatest fielding ability. He was formerly connected with the St. Louis Nationals and while on that aggregation performed well. He has also been the holder of a regular infield berth on some of the best semi-pro teams in the country.

Eddy Maiden, and the Jenkins brothers complete the aggregation and confine their work to the outfield. All of these men have a clean record so far this season and are considered the best obtainable in the city.

Manager Eddy Maiden has on his calendar of games for the season the best teams in this community and he will confine the activities of his team to members of this class only.

BILLIARD STAR TO PLAY HERE

ELYRIA—Local billiard fans will be afforded a rare treat next Wednesday at the Temple billiard parlors, when George E. Spears, world's champion straight rail billiard player will appear in exhibition games.

Spears is one of the oldest and best known stars in the billiard world, and is well known in Elyria having played here before. He holds the world's record high run of 5,041, made at Jackson, Mich. At Sioux City, Ia., a few weeks ago he made an unfinished run of 1,000. Recently he defeated George Sutton, ex-world's champion balk-line player, 500 to 30 at 18-2 balk-line billiards with a high run of 350 and averaging 50 for the match.

Spears offers odds of 100 to 1 on count to any of the local stars, and will meet the best local player in a 200 point exhibition game.

Last Night's Fights

At Cleveland—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, featherweight champion, outpointed Freddie Jacks of England, in ten rounds.
Tony Caponi of New York, won a newspaper decision from Artie Root of Cleveland in ten rounds.
Jimmy Shevlin, of Cincinnati, outpointed Lee Bailey of Buffalo in ten rounds.

At Dayton—Jak Lawler, Omaha, won from Blockie Richards, Dayton, in 12 rounds.
Mutt Snyder, Dayton and Don Hunter, Lima, fought a 10 round draw.

AUTO RACES SUNDAY

ELYRIA—Clarence A. Miller, Monroeville, is backing the auto races Sunday, in which one of the Elyria cars may enter and a number of Elyria fans are expected to attend. There will be a break with forty per cent gate receipts going for the benefit of the local hospital.

AMERICANS FALL BEFORE BRITISH GOLF CHAMPIONS

By FRANK CARRUTHERS, Special Correspondent of the I. N. S.
HOVLAKKE, England, May 26—Fred C. Wright, lone survivor of the American contingent that entered the British amateur golf championship, was put out of the running in the sixth round today by Bernard Darwin, of Weeking, at the 19th hole.

The last hope of the Yankees went down to defeat fighting like a champion. The match was a nip and tuck affair from the very start and the big gallery that braved a leaden sky, a damp breeze off the troubled Irish sea and a murky mist that hung over the links got thrill after thrill.

Four British players now remain in the tourney. They are Darwin, who will meet Willie Hunter of Walmer and Kingsdown and H. S. B. Tubbs, of Sunningdale, and A. J. Graham of the Royal Liverpool club who will compete in the semi-final round.

The results of the sixth round follow:
Bernard Darwin, Weeking, beat Fred Wright, Boston, at the 19th.
Willie Hunter, of Walmer and Kingsdown, beat E. W. Holderness, Walton Heath, 4 up and 3 to play.
H. S. B. Tubbs, of Sunningdale, beat John B. Beddard, of Penn club, 3 up and 2 to play.
A. J. Graham, Royal Liverpool, beat F. C. Harrison, Formby, 2 up and 1 to play.

DEMPSEY PEEVED BY DAY OF INACTIVITY

By SID MERCER, (International News Service.)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 26—Rain kept Jack Dempsey idle yesterday. Dempsey did not relish his enforced idleness and while he missed his customary jog on the road he got out in the open back of his house at Airport during the afternoon and romped with his two Belgian police dogs.

Among the arrivals yesterday was Joe Benjamin, lightweight member of the Kearns stables.

Holley-Krohn Will Play Belle-Vernon

LORAIN—The Holley Krohn baseball nine have signed to play the Belle Vernon baseball nine of Cleveland at the city field on Monday afternoon.

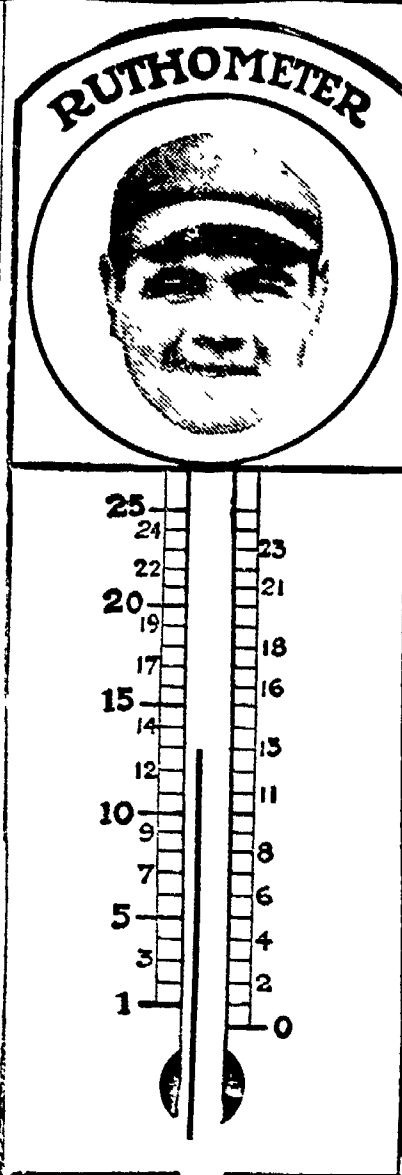

This Cleveland team comes to the city as one of the strongest Class A teams of Cleveland and they will make the local aggregation perform their best to come out on the long end of the score.
Manager Adams has not yet announced who he will select to oppose this team on the mound but it is believed that he will use his star ace, Tommy Young.
The Holley Krohn team will also be seen in action at the City field Sunday afternoon when they will take on the Berea city team in a return game.

TAGGING THE BASES

Rain stopped every game in the National League.

Babe Ruth hit his 13th homer at St. Louis but two errors by Johnny Mitchell gave the Browns an advantage of two runs that the Yanks could not overcome.

A single by Graney in the ninth which scored O'Neill gave the Indians their third straight victory over Boston.
The Senators broke even at Chicago when they hammered Wilkinson off the mound.
C. Walker and Dykes hit homers at Detroit and the Mackmen trimmed the Tigers.

KILBANE AND FRIEND WARNED TO GET BUSY

CLEVELAND, May 26—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world for nine years, easily outboxed Freddie Jacks last night in a ten round no decision bout at Dunn Field here. The bout was slow and uninteresting and it was not until after the 6000 odd fight fans had strongly hissed the champion that he displayed any form whatever. In the first few rounds he was content to jab lightly at the Britisher.

In the last three rounds, it was Kilbane's fight all the way, and had he fought in the same manner in the early cantos a knockout would have probably resulted.
So slow were the early rounds that President B. J. Wilmerding of the boxing commission issued orders that the fighters must get busy or leave the ring.

PRUSSIA ASKS THAT FRANCE END SPYING

Claim That French Military Spy Service is Hiring German Criminals to Steal State Papers.

By FRANK E. MASON, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, May 26—The Prussian state government has asked the German federal government to address a note to the French commission complaining that the French military spy service is hiring German criminals to commit thefts of German official papers. The French intelligence service conducts a regular camp of trained German second story men in Griesheim near Darmstadt, explained an official of the Prussian minister of the interior to the International News Service. German volunteers who are found unsuited for admission to the French foreign legion and who have a criminal record are asked if they do not wish to enroll in the French intelligence service, it is alleged.

The camp at Griesheim is conducted by First Lieutenant Lafond, assisted by Lieutenants Robert and Baret. The Prussian government has complete testimony in several cases. A German who had enlisted in this service under Lieutenant Lafond was assigned to break into the desk of an active German captain in Darmstadt to steal several papers.

The man alleged that he told Lieutenant Lafond he couldn't do the job alone and asked for an assistant. Another man was assigned and the burglar reported facts to the Darmstadt police. By agreement the police arrested the two as they entered the captain's room and the other man is alleged to have made a complete confession.

High Prices Paid for Papers. The Prussian government claims that it has a similar confession from a man arrested stealing military papers in Freiburg. The circus of trained burglars is not paid except for jobs accomplished, and then in accordance with the value of the papers brought back, the state's witnesses are said to have confessed. Then the pay varies from ten to twenty thousand marks for the job. In the meantime, they get free board and lodging in the Griesheim camp.

Another case reported in the official documents which the Prussian minister of the interior has placed at the disposal of the foreign office is the confession of a German sailor who says he was compelled to write to comrades still in the German navy, offering them a reward if they could secure copies of the German naval codes for him. Copies of these letters allegedly dictated by Lieutenant Robert, are attached to the evidence.

CRIBBAGE CLUB LOSSES

ELYRIA—The Elyria Cribbage club was defeated by the Cleveland Cribbagers at Cleveland Tuesday night by a score of 87 to 69. A return match will be played here within the next few weeks.

GOLF TOURNEY SOON

ELYRIA—Several Elyrians are contemplating entering the 18th annual amateur golf championship to be held at Cincinnati, June 22 to 25.

LABOR UNIONS ENDORSE PARADE FOR AKRON BENCH

AKRON, May 26—Members of the Central Labor Union last night endorsed W. E. Pardee for the common pleas bench in the court recently created by the general assembly. Pardee also has the endorsement of the county central committee but the Bar association failed to take such action, endorsing.

The Bar association takes the position that judgeships should be far removed from politics.

Pardee, formerly of the probate court, was republican leader in last fall's campaign and the heavy vote cast is attributed largely to his efforts.

A DISCUSSION OF TRUCK BILL NO. 34

We believe that it is generally conceded that few more important bills were passed by the legislature this year than the bill protecting the highways from destruction by the heavily laden trucks, and particularly these heavy loads during the season of moisture.

Few more important matters from a financial standpoint could come before the legislature. Ohio has a highway building program comprising more than $40,000,000 in the immediate future, and the question before the taxpayers and the people generally who use our highways is whether this money is to be expended upon our roads this year and the year following for the only purpose of having them immediately pounded to pieces and the money wasted by reason of no protection to the roads as has been the case in the past.

On Tuesday there gathered at Columbus a group of men who were objecting to certain provisions of this bill. They appeared before the governor and requested the governor that he should veto it.

It was stated that the number of men that were expected to appear to appeal to the governor for this veto would number all the way from one thousand to ten thousand. The newspaper dispatches declared there were two hundred. As a matter of actual count by a man who was present, there were exactly 60 in the room at one time, but the number makes little difference after all if their cause is right. If there was only one man protesting against this bill, and he was right and the measure was wrong, the bill should not become a law.

Now, what are the provisions of this bill? This bill permits a load on a power machine of not more than ten tons on the public highways of Ohio. This is a load of 20,000 pounds. Under the old law there was permitted a load of twelve tons, or 24,000 pounds. This is a reduction of two tons from the old law.

There are thousands, if not hundreds of thousands of men in the state who believe that it is the load which primarily causes the damage to the public highways. These people wanted more drastic legislation than the reduction to ten tons, but they insist that it should at least be reduced to ten tons. This was one of the amendments that was put on in the house. In harmony with it it provides further for a reduction in the weight allowed per inch on a tire from 800 to 650 pounds.

These two provisions in the present bill limit, as we have said, the load. These provisions do not rule off the road any truck, "automatically" as has been urged by those opposing the bill.

A man with a truck which weighs, without load, five tons, can still carry a load in addition to the weight of his truck of five tons, under this bill. He cannot carry a load of seven or eight tons on his five ton truck, as many of them are now doing. He is limited to the weight of five tons above the weight of his truck. If he has a truck of 3 1-2 tons, and he wants to put a load upon his truck of the difference between 3 1-2 tons and 10 tons, as far as the bill is concerned he can do it.

The bill did not aim to preserve the truck from being overloaded, but it aimed to preserve the highways from being overloaded. It was felt by those who passed it that above ten tons would overload the highway.

It has been urged that this will hurt light truck traffic. Just how this traffic is to be injured the objectors do not say, but they probably want to enlist the light traffic men on their behalf and think they can get them by misstating the facts.

The bill further provides a limitation of the speed of trucks and limits them in proportion to their load. When the load is five tons and less, twenty-five miles per hour on pneumatic tires is permitted; but where it is over eight tons, it is limited to fifteen miles per hour. On other tires than pneumatic, the speed permitted is less than that of pneumatic tires. Again there are those who are actually declaring that the bill has no provision in it which limits speed, and they declare they are against the bill because of the lack of this provision. This argument would be quite apropos if the statement was true. We seriously question the good faith of those who when stating their reason that they are opposed to any measure or any proposition base their reason upon an untruth.

The important and main feature of the bill provides that the county surveyor with the consent of the state highway commissioner shall be permitted to limit the load that passes over any of the improved highways of the state passing through his particular county, during the season when the ground is filled with moisture and when the roads are susceptible to great injury by the fact that they are almost floating on a sea of mud, to any load which in the judgment of the county surveyor can be carried without undue injury to the roads. It is generally known that the greatest injury to our highways is done when the frost is leaving the ground, and when the earth is loaded with moisture, then it is that a heavily laden truck passing over even the best highway does destructive work, and it is at this point where it is generally felt that restrictive legislation should be enacted.

It further provides that on highways that are not interstate and main market roads the county surveyor shall have power to limit the loads during these same seasons. For this, he does not require the consent of the state highway commissioner.

Again this bill provides a penalty for the violation of the provisions of the act ranging from $25 to $1,000, and the county commissioners are further permitted to use such portion of the road funds as is necessary to pay a deputy therefor whose business it shall be to aid in enforcing this act. This bill no more than any other bill on any important question meets the full ideals of any one who has made a particular study of protective legislation for highways. It is far different than the bill as introduced by the author originally but the bill as originally introduced however, made a meeting ground for many minds, so as to make possible the hammering out of this present measure.

The bill was not hastily thrown together as some allege. There were some amendments which the house placed upon it at the eleventh hour which were not fully considered, but these amendments strengthened the bill as a highway protective measure, though they did militate against the heavy truckmen who desired to carry more than ten tons over the highway.

We believe that this bill when enacted will protect the highways of Ohio to the extent of millions of dollars; that the tax payers will be able to use their money more largely for extension and improving the highways for a few years rather than simply spending their money for repairing it when it has been damaged by the terrifically heavy loads, and largely in the spring of the year.

QUIETING DOWN

If the members of the Supreme Council before they meet again would devote a few days to the study of Aesop—if Aesop is out of print La Fontaine would do just as well—they might learn a few things to their advantage, and to the advantage of the world. Fables, really worth while fables, are common sense in a concentrated form. There are many of them that might be studied with profit by Lloyd George and Briand.

Both Great Britain and France are planning for the far distance future at a moment when highly troublesome, not to say dangerous, problems of the present demand immediate solution. France wants to build up a strong Poland. Her ally, Russia, having gone to the dogs, she would like to see Poland placed upon the opposite frontier to Germany, made powerful enough to exercise a restraining influence upon her traditional foe. The Lloyd George government pursuing the traditional British policy, is not desirous of seeing any Continental Power raised to too high an estate of strength and influence, be it France or Poland or both together.

Accordingly there has been some clash of interests and the two Prime Ministers have talked about the matter with indiscreet freedom and frankness. In truth it is a clash of dreams rather than of interest, for historical developments do not always or often follow the lines laid down for them by Ministers. After an outburst or two, in which the press of London and Paris joined, including some newspapers that ought to have been wiser, the fracas has quieted down noticeably. There is now reason to expect another conciliation of views like the many that have preceded it.

These recurring differences between two powers on whose sticking together so much depends are senseless and a cause of continuing anxiety. The trouble-making spirit of the Poles needs no encouragement from Briand. The Germans will find ways enough to being troublesome without the assistance of Lloyd George. Having bungled the entire Upper Silesia business from the beginning, the least the Allies can do is to see to it that the seeds of mischief they have planted there do not sprout into serious disturbance filling the whole world with anxiety.

The Reparations Question is by no means settled—Germany has only promised to pay on certain dates. Her government is unstable, and at any sign of a real rupture between France and England a combination of political parties might be formed which would repudiate the agreement and on any one of a dozen pretexts demand new terms. The Germans listen as eagerly to Mr. Lloyd George's words as the Poles do to those of Mr. Briand. A self-imposed and rather strict reticence is indicated in the case of both of these statesmen. It would be well for both of them to take note of the fact that the world would enjoy a few moments of repose.—New York Times (Ind. Dem.)

HONORS FOR THE BOOK-SELLER.

The American Booksellers' association, which is now twenty-one years of age, celebrated its majority by establishing an honorary fellowship of American Booksellers and awarding its first degrees and diplomas at its convention at Atlantic City which has just closed. In order to find the men in the trade who were considered the most worthy of the association honor the names of fifteen men were placed in nomination, and during the past year five were selected. They were Charles E. Butler of Brentano's, New York; Joseph Jennings of the Old Corner Bookstore, Boston; George W. Jacobs, of Philadelphia; William Harris Arnold, New York, and J. K. Gill, Portland, Oregon. The bookseller has always occupied a peculiar position in the world's trade; he has been a merchant and salesman, and at the same time adviser to the author, and the publisher; and a strong factor in bringing before the reader the best product of the printer's art. The modern system of book-selling began with the introduction of printing, and the two have always been closely connected. Wynkyn de Worde, one of the early owners of the Caxton Press, had a London bookshop, and Antony Koberge, who introduced printing in Nuremberg in the latter part of the fifteenth century, was the proprietor of sixteen bookshops in Germany and had agents in every large European city.

The old bookshop of Fleet street and Paternoster row were noted gathering places for English literary men, and many of the shops were made famous by Dr. Johnson and Lamb. The Old Corner Bookstore was much frequented by the Boston writers of the last century, and Putnam's Leggett's and other bookshops of this city always had their many small circles of book-lovers, authors and readers. The bookshop was one place where the literary worker or dreamer could browse undisturbed to his heart's content.

Bookselling has a most interesting trade history; its wares have left their imprint upon the world as have those of few other industries, and it has engaged the activities of men of unusual character and of many sided information and abilities. Modern conditions have brought changes in bookselling as in all other trades, and the men who have been honored by the association, as well as all those who were placed in nomination for the fellowship, have been laboring assiduously to meet with judgement and foresight the changes which have been forced upon them. They are all pioneers in the bookselling trade as it has developed within the last quarter of a century. They were honored by their fellows because it was believed that they would preserve the high character and the best traditions of the ancient trade of the booksellers.—New York Herald (Ind.)
